I'm a 72 year old woman and want to share my story of becoming an ostomate.. I was diagnosed with ulcerative colitis, an inflammatory bowel disease that causes inflammation in the digestive tract, at 13 and was prescribed salazopyrin tablets. My GP told my parents that puberty may cure me. I just coped with the outcome of the GP's advice however I reached puberty and it did not make a difference. My early symptoms were mainly diarrhoea and bloody stools however the tablets did help. I started working as a secretary at 18 and became engaged but was experiencing severe bouts of diarrhoea and felt the need to get expert advice. I saw a colorectal specialist at 19 who told me that surgery to remove most of my inflamed large bowel was essential and I would have a temporary ileostomy for 1 year. The surgery resulted in complications, mainly blockages and the specialist had to reopen my wound several times to clear the blockage. I returned to work and after 12 months the temporary ileostomy was reversed and I was healthy and got married. The adhesions I got from the previous surgery and subsequent complications made it impossible for me to conceive children naturally. My husband and I opted to adopt two beautiful children a boy and a girl as 4 week old babies who have gone on to give us six grandchildren.

I felt well with few complications spanning nearly 40 years drug free until in 2016 I became very run down and unfortunately had to give up a career I loved in 2018. I saw a new gastroenterologist who performed a colonoscopy and told me to see a colorectal surgeon within a month. I subsequently had the remaining part of my large bowel and rectum removed in 2019 and had a permanent ileostomy. My only regret is that I didn't deal with changing my gastroenterologist earlier as I had been seeing the same specialist for over 30 years but he was reluctant to do a colonoscopy. After the colorectal surgeon removed the remaining 12 inches of my large bowel it was analysed by a pathologist who found a 120mm Stage 3 cancer tumour. The cancer was removed and I had chemotherapy in 2020 for 3 months. I've been mostly well ever since however blockages did come back and I have had to go to the emergency department of our local hospital for overnight stays regularly. In July 2024 I was in hospital for 4 weeks with a small bowel blockage as well as complications with my heart. I have obtained advice from a dietician on how to have a better diet and how to eat food that can be chewed more thoroughly. During the 2019 surgery my left ureter was damaged and I needed a urologist to repair this. It's been a huge journey to get well but last year the Oncologist and the Urologist both told me they no longer need to see me as a patient. I am able to do everything I did before I had my ileostomy and try and walk my dog every day. I know I will be around for longer to care for him because I don't have the pain and discomfort of ulcerative colitis. I can't emphasize enough that life has become much better for me by having the surgery to remove my large bowel.

ULCERATIVE COLITIS

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

I am grateful to Ostomy NSW for their support not only with ostomy supplies but general information via the caring and helpful staff and the stomal therapy nurses also the magazine and meetings with other ostomates. The personal contact and talks at different times as well as the larger meetings have been invaluable. I thought after having the temporary ileostomy at 19 that I knew everything and am surprised how far the management of an ileostomy has progressed and how improved the medical supplies have become. When I was young I kept my ileostomy very quiet from everyone except family. However younger ostomates embrace their ileostomy or colostomy and don't feel the need to hide it like I did. I now tell more people about my ileostomy as it is a learning experience for them as well. My mother in law had a colostomy and her mother had a colostomy so my husband is very supportive. When I was in Chris O'Brien Life House Hospital at Camperdown having the ureter repaired I needed to have a tube inserted in my left kidney. It was very painful and I was taken downstairs to have it x-rayed and I did start to have a good cry and the young orderly kept patting me and saying are you alright. I said yes but I still cried and I remember how caring he was and so unprepared for my tears. I have come through all the surgery and want to say it was worth it. Thank you for reading my story and for your wonderful support too

THE SOUND OF SILENCE

I don't want to go into too much detail here but just recently in order to prolong my life a very skilled colorectal surgeon performed a 'laporoscopic ultra low anterior resection with ileostomy' on me which left me with a large chunk of my insides missing and provided me with a stoma - a hole in my abdomen through which.....

Look, I said I didn't want to go into too much detail didn't I? But summarising, together with 65 000 other Australians, I am now wearing a bag which needs to be managed regularly and while it's inconvenient, it is not as difficult to live with as one would imagine. Many people have lived normal and productive lives for decades while dealing with this situation. Some well known stomates were Dwight D Eisenhower, Frank Sinatra, the Queen Mother and Napoleon Bonaparte. Celebrities, football players, surfers, movie stars, even wrestlers are in the club. And now me.

Napoleon Bonaparte

As it turns out my stoma is temporary. My surgeon was able to leave enough of my insides in so that in six months time he will be able to hook me up again and I will be able carry on with Business as Usual.

But as always there is a cow on the line. I have quite a bulge under my stoma and apparently if I am not careful a parastomal hernia could develop near it which could lead to serious complications..

In talking about my situation with my stomal therapist she advised me to avoid too much exertion and to support the stoma when exercising, coughing or just living. She said there are unobtrusive support belts you can buy which help prevent the development of parastomal hernias and suggested I consider this option. Of course - but she mentioned offhand that she had a client who bought a Boob Tube which was a good goto while he waited for the belt to arrive. I wasn't quite sure what a Boob Tube was but when she described it I recalled seeing some of my older granddaughters wearing them. A strapless gravity-defying top attached to a tight fitting bodice. So for her client the bodice provided a firmness around the middle which supported his stoma. This sounded like a good idea to me and being keen to start supporting my bulge as soon as possible I immediately hightailed it to Big K department store where I would surely be able to buy a Boob Tube to use while I waited for a belt to arrive.

The Not being sure where I might find a Boob Tube I went to the Service Desk to be pointed in the right direction. There were a lot of people being attended to and when it was my turn I fronted up to a middle-aged assistant who looked frazzled and not particularly in love with her job and said

Hello there. Can you tell me where I might buy a Boob Tube?

She looked at me - quizzically at first and then disdainfully - and then picked up a microphone from the desk and slowly and deliberately announced to the whole store -

Attention Charlotte! Attention Charlotte! Would you come to the Service Desk please? There is an old bloke here who wants to buy a Boob Tube. Would you please come and escort him to Active Woman's where he can select a nice Boob Tube. He is standing here wearing jeans and a blue sloppy Joe. He's probably an XXL

Suddenly I was engulfed by the deafening Sound of Silence. There was no ambient music; no children crying; no clatter of trolleys only the sound of a thousand eyes staring - at me. It seemed everything had come to a complete halt and nothing was moving except a young shop assistant sporting two armfuls of tattoos hurrying down the aisle towards me. Charlotte.

Breaking the silence she said in a loud voice

Are you the dude who wants to buy a Boob Tube. Follow me. We have a great selection. You're sure to find one that fits.

Wading through a tsunami of tut tuts and disapproving looks I followed Charlotte to the Active Woman's Department, trying desperately - but failing - to look nonchalant.

Well I did find one. It seemed a comfortable firm fit. Passion pink. And I was indeed XXL. But in actual fact I only wore it a few times. It turned out to be quite uncomfortable as my man boobs were too droopy to support the bra part which kept falling down. Additionally the blokes at the Bowling Club spied me hitching it under my shirt and asked me what I was doing.

So, I have ordered a purpose built support belt and eagerly await its arrival. I will avoid Big K for the next few months until Frazzled and Charlotte have forgotten me.

The silence of recognition would be just too painful to bear.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

STEPHEN LARDNER General Manager and Company Secretary since April 2026

I joined Ostomy NSW in 2016 as General Manager and brought a commercial background from multinational organisations. I enjoyed a twenty-year career at Energizer and have enjoyed my change to Ostomy NSW. At Energizer I was Vice President Asia for two years and prior to this role a GM in Australia and New Zealand. Energizer makes Energizer and Eveready batteries and at the time also had a personal care division with Schick, Banana Boat and Wet Ones as products. I managed business operations including sales and marketing teams, HR, finance, supply chain and IT whilst working alongside skilled workers and diverse employees. I most enjoyed travelling across Asia's countries and understanding the cultures and operations of our affiliate businesses and distributors.

My role at Ostomy NSW has been my first outside consumer goods and I continue to learn from our talented staff and volunteers on making a not-for-profit operate under a lean financial structure. The support of our members and the quality of positive feedback we receive enriches our roles. We have improved our efficiency since I joined with improvements in electronic data, new computer systems, changes to our premises and many valuable volunteers assisting our staff. The introduction of online payments and ordering, regular newsletters and emails and more recently the member portal are examples of our progress.

I have volunteered with other organisations with roles including President, Vice President and Treasurer within the not-for-profit sector. I was a minute secretary at a school which led me to complete two years of a Bachelor of Education degree, which I did not complete. It feels good to give back to organisations that provide support for those in need. I am also Company Secretary at Ostomy NSW and have been a director of Energizer affiliates across Asia.

I grew up in the southern states (Adelaide and Melbourne) where I attended school and completed a Bachelor of Commerce degree at Melbourne University. I now live in Wollongong where I have been for the past 30 years, except for six years living in Auckland, NZ. My interests outside of Ostomy are my family and keeping fit with running, cycling and daily walks. I'm an avid watcher of sport (AFL, NRL and cricket are my favourites) and love to listen to music for my entertainment.

GREG DOYLE Director since November 2015

I joined ONL as an ostomate member in Jan 2011. Following my surgery, that left me a double ostomate, I returned to my normal place of employment until late in 2012 when I retired.

For the following couple of years, I placed and received my orders like clockwork, without any questions. I used to browse quickly through the quarterly newsletter, just reading any articles that caught my eye. During this time, the Association “was just there when I needed my monthly order”. However, the request for volunteers was a regular part of these newsletters that I seemed to always notice - do you??

I decided to apply to help out and my application was greatly accepted. I started volunteering for one day each week in February 2014. By the end of that year, I was employed for 20 hours a week working in the warehouse. I enjoyed the work and atmosphere of “do our best for the members”.

In 2015 the then General Manager asked me if I would consider joining the Board. I wasn't too sure what I could bring to the Board as my previous employment required me to manage repairs and maintenance of heavy and mining machinery. It didn't seem to fit with the ins and outs of a stoma association. However, I threw my hat into the ring, and here I am!!

Initially I was mildly uncomfortable with the legal requirements of a board member, but I soon came to appreciate that the staff and management were appreciative of having an operating and visible board, meeting regularly to hear reports, and to advise and guide management through any issues as they arise. I realised quickly that the position was needed for the Association to function as best as possible.

In my time here a number of board members have come and gone for various reasons however we now seem to have a good balance of Directors who always have something to offer during meetings. We have a good balance. We also have a number of positions on the board to be filled by enthusiastic people from our membership.

My humble beginnings began in the mountains of the Upper Yarra Valley in Victoria, in 1953. I apprenticed as a Holden mechanic, served in the Australian Army and from the late 1970's I worked in the civil construction and mining industries (generally for the one employer) as a plant mechanic and later a General Superintendent.

I am a 44-year-old Ostomate and have been living with an ileostomy since 2018 after undergoing surgery to treat a reoccurrence of bowel cancer (after living with chronic ulcerative colitis since my teens).

As a result of my experience, I am passionate about making a positive impact for other Ostomates and advocating for continued and improved services via the Stoma Appliance Scheme.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

I have previously volunteered with the NSW Cancer Council in several areas, including Co-Chair of the Manly Relay for Life.

Currently employed as an Executive Director, for the US Investment Bank J.P. Morgan Chase primarily focusing on Finance and Business managements, with prior roles with the firm in Hong Kong and London. I am a Board Member of J.P. Morgan Nominees Australia Limited and a member of the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA).

In my spare time, I enjoy water sports, Australian Rules Football (AFL), travelling and spending time with my wife and growing sons (14, 11, 8).

Given my passion, I hope to continue serve on the Executive of ACSA and support fellow Ostomates by assisting to help the council govern and grow for the benefit of each and every one of us.

MANHATTAN PRAYAG

Director since September 2024

Manhattan is an ostomate having been diagnosed with Crohn's Disease in 2007 at the age of 17 after two years of failed attempts at diagnosis. He subsequently went on to have an ileostomy in 2013, and a perineal resection with complications of osteomyelitis in 2020 with an extensive recovery period lasting 2 years requiring daily community nursing. Through his ostomy journey he completed his HSC going on to also obtain a B.Com, and M.Com at Sydney Uni and his chartered management accountants qualification (CIMA).

Having started working professionally in Sydney he moved to Canada soon after this ileostomy for a couple of years before returning to Australia having a varied background in Finance, IT, and Project & Change Management working across several industries including Consumer Goods, Oil & Gas, Property & Construction in both Australia and Canada/USA.

He aims to contribute to ONL which he has been a member of for over a decade, having a strong interest in raising awareness and providing support for the younger ostomy community for which navigating the medical system, whilst studying, working, or travelling may seem impossible. He is also excited to be having long standing involvement with ONL having joined the board at the age of 36.

JACKY CARUSI Board Member since February 2023

Roughly around 2007 I became very unwell, telling doctors I was in constant abdominal pain, constantly nauseated, and exhausted.

I couldn't walk 5 steps without losing my breath. My body had lost so much blood that my haemoglobin dropped to 0.7% the usual low being around 57%

After regular blood transfusions, the doctors couldn't work out where my blood kept going so they started investigating by giving me a hysterectomy and other weird operations. I always ended up back in hospital for another transfusion.

Finally, the doctors decided to start investigating my bowel.

I got to the point where I wouldn't leave the house. For 3 years I became a recluse, fell into a very bad depression, eating food made me so very sick I pretty well much stopped eating just to stop the pain.

After so many unpleasant tests and exams the discovery led to Inflammatory bowel disease, slow transit, bowel incontinence and weak to no bowel muscles. They also put the blood loss down to ischemic bowel, as they couldn't find any other reason for it.

I was asked to undertake a study for a pacemaker in my bowel.

It didn't work, and after a year, symptoms became more severe. They tried a Chait tube trial they were doing which didn't work.

A year later I had a Loop Ileostomy. It all went well for 6 months, but the large bowel wouldn't cooperate. We tried several alternatives then the decision was made to remove the whole large bowel and I now have a permanent ileostomy.

I had to try and get myself back out into the world again. It was tough going as I had forgotten how to socialise, and pretty much forgot who I was as a person before I became sick.

I still have bad days where I have a sulk and wish I didn't have a piece of plastic stuck to my belly and want to rip it off and scream, but I take 5 minutes time out, remember life before my bag, take a deep breath and see how much my life has changed since.

I started to attend the stoma support group, which was so great. I discovered I could volunteer up at Kirrawee, which is at the moment Caringbah, so I started volunteering up there.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

In January 2019 I was looking forward to getting back to Ostomy NSW for my volunteer work, and back into a new year of adventures and I broke my wrist so time stood still for a couple of weeks, then I had a crazy idea that now I had started to discover myself again I didn't want to stop.

My life in the past 18 years has gone from non-existent to worthwhile. I thought having a stoma and a permanent bag would be the end of any quality of life, but it has given it back better, and one with much more meaning.

I still volunteer up at Caringbah,

I am proud to be on the board of directors, with my small contribution, I hope to make a difference.

And I now have my own Australian owned and operated Stomabuddies business.

This started when I broke my arm, I decided I was going to become a sewer, which was hilarious as I couldn't really sew a straight line.

A friend of mine started to teach me how to sew, and finally started to create. I opened a shop on Etsy and started selling my creations on line and at events. I take my garments around to as many Stoma support groups that I can get to or I'm invited to. I even did a road trip up to Bundaberg last year and stopped in at a few organisations on the way. I love helping as many people with a stoma, as I possibly can.

All of my products have come about from stoma buddies asking me if I can make this or that, or they have a need for something in particular.

My work history before I became unwell was:

Truck driver in my earlier days, up into my 30's

I went on to get my certificate in social work

I went on to complete my Bachelor Of Health Science for Indigenous Health.

Advanced Diploma in Social Work and Social Science.

I then started working in Aged care and disability sector until I became too unwell.

I loved all the jobs I have had, but now my stoma life has opened new doors, and I can only say, it has given me a new life in so many positive ways.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

TERRY SCULLY Director

I am Sydney born and bred and have spent most of my working life in NSW except for a short stint living overseas. I have had a varied career and life experiences, my working life started in 1973 as a clerk for the Department of Main Roads, I lasted just over a year then moved sideways into drafting prior to starting my apprenticeship in plumbing. By the time I had obtained my licence, I was getting itchy feet and looking for new challenges. I had taken up scuba diving so my twisted brain thought maybe I could somehow combine this with travel as a career move. I enrolled in a travel course at TAFE which eventually led to managing a wholesale scuba diving tour company, leading dive tours in the Pacific regions. After a few twists and turns along the way I ended up with a gig managing a couple of bars in Micronesia on Yap, the island of Stone Money. I finally landed back in Australia and starting a long haul at Qantas for 24 years.

I spent 17 of those years within the Qantas Information Technology environment. My working title was as a business systems analyst, but this really did cover my day-to-day role. I gained extensive skills and knowledge in airline and travel systems. I have advanced skills in dealing with application delivery methods including the development and execution of test plans, systems testing, systems development, systems support, incident management and problem resolution within the defined service level agreements.

My last achievement before taking redundancy in October 2020 was to ensure the delivery, support and transition of the IT systems of QF Catering (across 4 states) to DNATA, a United Arab Emirates owned global business.

Somewhere along the way I managed to get married and have two children. My daughter graduated as a nurse just over 12 months ago and is working at an Aboriginal Community Centre in Canberra, my son decided to be a plumber and I must admit he's a better one than his Daddy, my next challenge is to get him out of the nest, but I doubt his Mum will be pleased.

My cancer journey started over 10 years ago with Merkel Cell Carcinoma, moved onto Acute Myeloid Leukemia, and due to complications with this little buddy, anal cancer with the result being my new friend the Colostomy (not named) and a Ken Butt.

Due to these challenges, I believed I had something to offer to the business as I was able to empathise with a majority of our members and what they must deal with daily.

I have been volunteering at Ostomy NSW on a part time basis for approx. 2 years mainly sealing boxes for delivery to our members, with an occasional hand in stock picking and packing when the need arises. During my interactions with the team, I learned they were looking for directors, this was not something I had done previously but with encouragement from the team and having a fair bit of time on my hands, I hoped I could be of some service to the board and its members. I have just turned over 12 months as a director and have thoroughly enjoyed the interactions with the other directors, also the diverse challenges that pop up running a not-for-profit business and servicing the needs of our extended family.

AGM and Financial Report — 2024 —

On Saturday 23rd November the Annual General Meeting of Ostomy NSW was held, at the premises in Caringbah as well as online via Zoom. At the meeting the financial report was unanimously accepted by the members present and by proxy. A summary of the financial report is provided below.

We are also fortunate to have four directors elected to the board at the meeting. Greg Doyle and David Turner are current serving directors who stood for re-election for a further two years and were unanimously accepted. Manhattan Prayag joined the board on secondment in September 2024 and was formally appointed, again by unanimous acceptance, for a period of two years. Damian Gleeson nominated for the board during the AGM notice period and was unanimously elected to the board, also for a period of two years. The board of directors now consists of Jacky Carusi, Greg Doyle, Damian Gleeson, Adam Keam, Perry Johnstone, Manhattan Prayag, Terry Scully and David Turner. All directors are current members of Ostomy NSW Limited and work on your behalf to ensure the business maintains high standards and accountability, whilst also creating a strategic plan and longer-term vision for our future. Adam Keam also serves as Treasurer on the national body, Australian Council of Stoma Associations (ACSA). In our next journal we will share a brief biography of each director.

Fire Insurance – we are continuing to rent temporary premises and it is only very recently that the owners have reached a consensus on re-building the premises at 555 Princes Hwy, Kirrawee.

Member meetings – We have held three member meetings since the last AGM: Ballina (June), Orange (October) and Penrith (yesterday)

We have continued monthly Zoom meetings for members this year where we present on how the association runs, how to order and clinical information sessions such as Skin Health and Diet and Exercise.

Click To Boot – continues to gain in popularity.

STN Clinic – Lee Gavegan is contracted each Tuesday. All of her consults are via tele-health and she makes regular contact with new members. Lee is also active in education within the aged care sector.

STN Scholarship – We continue to offer scholarship fund support for RNs to undertake the Graduate Certificate in Stoma Nursing through the Australian College of Nursing. This year we were able to support two scholarships for RNs in NSW.

Board of Directors – the Board continues to meet monthly to review the operation of ONL and financial reports. All directors are actively involved in the business as volunteers.

Staff and Volunteers – we are fortunate to have a group of loyal staff and volunteers. 7 of our 16 staff have exceeded 10 years' service; 9 of our 34 volunteers also exceed 10 years' service.

Supplier Performance – there has generally been good support from suppliers by maintaining frequent and consistent supply of products. Where problems have occurred, we have addressed these with suppliers. There is some impact on our delivery performance due all the warehouses being located in Melbourne and only one in Sydney. Most suppliers had periods where items were unavailable due to their supply chain.

Working with other associations – We have maintained professional working dialogue and discussions with NSW Stoma during the year, including regular visits to each other's facilities. There have also been discussions with many other associations.

Working with the national body (ACSA) - Ostomy NSW is represented on the National IT Subcommittee providing input to the development of systems for all associations. ONL contributes to quarterly discussions and representations made to Federal government via ACSA.

Future Developments in 2025

- Member portal development provides secure access to your personal information and ordering options.
- Using money from our business insurance claim to establish our premises again at 555 Princes Hwy, Kirrawee in 2026.
- 555 Princes Hwy site will be finalised in 2025, pending council approval and reconstruction costs.
- Options for our owned premises will be worked on with our Board.
